

Copyright Violation Claim

To attention of SoftForYou owners; Anna Mulqueen and Alex Vereshchak.

Being the author who originally invented the idea, designed and then developed the iProtectYou, CyberSieve and 1st Click software programs on my own risk and money and never giving you the exclusive rights to sell these programs from SoftForYou web site I am requesting you remove the iProtectYou, CyberSieve and 1st Click software programs from your website with 5 (five) business days otherwise I keep the rights to use all possible legal measures against your company.

I want to bring to your attention all possible dangers of selling my work from your website.

<http://www.copyright.gov/title17/92chap5.html>

This FAX, all our previous correspondence as well as all possible feature correspondence will be stored in a public domain and can be used in possible feature criminal investigations together with witness original evidence.

The fact of sending this FAX also is logged by our Internet FAX service logs and can be used together with other materials.

Regards,

Khachatur Petrosyan

Author of iProtectYou, CyberSieve and 1st Click software programs